The Importance of Packaging:

Your package, whether a custom retail box or other printed packaging, will largely determine your success in marketing your product, in the modern retail environment often serving as your best or only salesperson. Your packaging has to do a lot -- it needs to attract attention, be convincing, and ultimately see your products. Custom printed boxes are a quick, easy, and attractive way to get your product noticed.

Printing:

We can handle the simplest one-color project to the most demanding eight-color job. As part of our commitment to providing eco-friendly recycled green boxes, we can also use soy-based ink, which is biodegradable. We have the ability to print your custom boxes on various types of paperboard and thicknesses. If you are not sure about the paper types and thickness, we are glad to give you some suggestions.
