Corrugated box:

The custom-made corrugated packaging box is a good way to do both the protection job and the selling job. Our clients love to use the full-color printing corrugated box because they want to protect the inside product better. Some merchandises like glasses, cups, mugs, wine bottles, and some other fragile products are much better to use the corrugated paper box as the first packaging. The reason is not only the corrugated paperboard can absorb the force of percussion, but also it is flat-pack shipped like the normal single wall folding carton.

Kraft paper drawer boxes are designed to perform multiple functions due to their ability to pack any form of the product. With these drawer boxes, you can pack your items in the drawer boxes despite their shapes without interfering with the shape of the drawer box. The Kraft paper material used to make the sliding boxes is very strong such the box is able to safely hold any kind of an item that a shopper would need to package. Kraft paper drawer boxes are the ideal solution for your packaging needs. You can use them to safely pack your food items, gifts, and soaps among other household items.

These boxes are produced in two parts with the inner drawer meant to protect the items, as the other slipcase sleeve covers the top and is also meant for decorative purposes in paper or clear windows. Kraft drawer boxes are the most preferred paper packaging since they are biodegradable in nature and hence do not pollute the environment.
